A, B, C!! It's that time of year again-report card season. The students have been busy learning, experimenting, running, catching, computing, creating, and expanding their knowledge in so many ways. The teachers have also been learning, experimenting, computing, and expanding their knowledge with a new report card writing system. Our students are not the only learners in our building. I was so impressed with our Grade Six students who created a spooky haunted house for everyone. They transformed the gym into a dark and scary space that was the place to be on October 30th! Well there is no escaping it: the snow and cold have arrived and the students are having a blast in it! Since we go outside twice a day for recess, make sure your child is warmly dressed in winter coat, boots, snow pants, mittens or gloves, hat and scarf. This month we held our Remembrance Day assembly. We had our school choir sing From a Distance, M Gearey's class recite In Flanders' Field, and Mr. MacKay from the Legion speaking to the students about the significance of the day. The respect our students showed was touching.

Report Cards and Early Dismissal

This year we have begun using a new information system to write report cards. It has been a change that has brought with it some challenges. To allow for school districts to come on board the system it was necessary to shut it down when many of our teachers would normally be writing report cards. To allow our teachers adequate time to complete these important documents we will be sending out report cards a bit later than we usually do. On November 25th your child will be bringing home their report card.

The shortened days will still be November 25th and 26th. Your child's teacher will be letting you know how to book an interview time at the beginning of next week.

Your understanding in this is greatly appreciated.
